

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

• Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's stay up until morning!

Learning Outcome

Describe events through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you enjoy watching sports? Why or why not?
- Do you think watching sports is a cultural experience? In what ways?
- How would you show team spirit at a game?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about manners, customs, and cultural items.
- I can express suggestions, necessity, and possibility.
- I can encourage agreement.

Let's Explore!

Peter, Sally and Vanessa make a night of it!

* To "make a night of it" means to do something into the early hours of the morning.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Peter: Wasn't tonight indescribably amazing?
Vanessa: Absolutely! Basketball could be my new favorite sport.
Sally: And Steve might be my new favorite person!
Peter: The best part is that the Celtics won! Hey, we should get season's tickets!
Vanessa: I've never eaten so much popcorn and drunk so much beer at a game! Don't you feel a little sick?
Peter: No! You shouldn't either. You had only one pint!
Vanessa: Didn't I have two? The crowd was fun. I loved all the cheering and the players were so tall and talented. It was an all-American experience. I loved that everyone had a jersey or painted their face to root for their team.
Peter: Don't you think we should come for the playoffs if the Celtics make it this year?
Vanessa: I'm game! Sally, your new man enjoyed it too. We might have to come up for more games ... but we can't make such a late night of it next time. I am supposed to be back at the restaurant at 6 pm.
Sally: Wouldn't you love to watch the sun rise?
Peter: Aren't you ready to go back to your hotel? It's four in the morning! You might want to sleep in before you check out tomorrow.
Sally: I could stay up all night.
Vanessa: Somebody is falling in love!

Let's Practice!

Peter talks about basketball games.

Instructions: Underline all the modal verbs in the paragraph.

Going to a basketball game might turn into a fun night out. You should go with your stomach empty so you can eat a lot of popcorn and drink beer. You have to be prepared to cheer your team on. You may enjoy playoffs. After the game, you might need to rest!

Let's Practice!

Sally, Peter and Vanessa ask some questions.

Instructions: Choose a word from the box to correctly complete the sentences. Practice saying the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Word bank:

- Wouldn't
- Aren't
- Don't
- Wasn't
- Don't

1. _____ tonight indescribably amazing?
2. _____ you feel a little sick?
3. _____ you think we should come for the playoffs if the Celtics make it this year?
4. _____ you love to watch the sun rise?
5. _____ you ready to go back to your hotel?

Extension Activity

Talk about an evening you wish had never ended

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Write a letter to a friend and tell him/her about a fun evening you had.
- Say who you went with, where you went.
- Explain what might have made the evening so special.
- Ask him/her to tell you about a night he/she enjoyed.
- Read your letter aloud to another student.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write letter about a wonderful evening.

☐ ☐

I say who I went with and where I went.

☐ ☐

I explain what might have made the night so wonderful.

☐ ☐

I share my letter with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- indescribably (adverb): in a way that is impossible to describe e.g. Wasn't tonight indescribably amazing?
- pint (noun): a large glass of beer; approximately half a liter
e.g. You had only one pint!
- cheering (noun): shouts of encouragement
e.g. I loved all the cheering.
- jersey (noun): a shirt worn by members of a sports team or their followers e.g. Everyone had a jersey or painted their face.
- to make it (expression): to succeed in something e.g. The Celtics might make it this year.
- to be game (expression): to be willing to participate in an activity e.g. I'm game!
- to sleep in (verb): to get up late e.g. You might want to sleep in before you check out tomorrow.

Learning Points

Negative questions to encourage agreement

Negative questions are used for confirmation or agreement. They can be used with any verb tense.

Negative questions can be used with any verb tense but the forms must be correctly used.

Negative auxiliary + subject + main verb

Wouldn't you love to watch the sun rise?

Remember that questions with the verb to be in the simple present and past are formed differently.

Be verb + subject

Wasn't tonight indescribably amazing?

Isn't tonight indescribably amazing?

Examples:

- Don't you feel a little sick?
- Didn't I have two?
- Don't you think we should come for the playoffs if the Celtics make it this year?
- Aren't you ready to go back to your hotel?

Learning Points

Modals for suggestions, necessity, and possibility

Modals of possibility

Might and may are both modals used to talk about possibilities.

Might is more common than may in conversation. May sounds more formal than might.

We might have to come up for more games.

You might want to sleep in before you check out tomorrow.

You can also use the modal could to talk about possibilities.

We could come up for more games ...

You could sleep in.

Examples:

- Basketball could be my new favorite sport.
- And Steve might be my new favorite person!
- Hey we should get seasons tickets!
- You shouldn't either.
- I could stay up all night.

