

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Shopping can be fun or tiring!

Learning Outcome

Describe events through a wider range of B1 language in both work and social contexts.

Ask your partner:

- When you go shopping for clothes do you prefer being alone or having someone with you?
- What kinds of clothes do you like buying?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about clothing, socializing and going out.
- I can express suggestions, necessity and possibility.
- I can show I understand someone's feelings or situation.

Let's Explore!

Sally and Vanessa find an elegant outfit!

* "Elegant" means graceful or stylish in appearance or manner.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Wow! Sally, you must be feeling exhausted after last night's party!
- Sally: Yes, and I'm supposed to meet up with my eccentric old aunt for dinner tonight at your restaurant!
- Vanessa: Then, you'd better dress up! We should find you something elegant!
- Sally: Or maybe I could borrow your long-sleeved silk dress?
- Vanessa: Let's look a little more first. I wonder what your aunt is all fired up about this time.
- Sally: Last time she went on about how badly people behave because of technology.
- Vanessa: Poor Scarlett, she must be lonely.
- Sally: I know she must be pretty sad living without her husband. Though he was her fourth!
- Vanessa: Just be careful not to slip up like you did last time!
- Sally: Don't worry I definitely won't. Last time she tore into me about being single. She said, "You should realize, my dear, that proper women get married!"
- Vanessa: That's almost funny. She must be shocked by how different our lives are from hers. You really must try this cashmere sweater on.
- Sally: Yes that would go well with my black pencil skirt.
- Vanessa: We found you an outfit! Your aunt will brighten up when she sees how smashing you look. You have to try not to get too worked up if she is critical.
- Sally: I'm pretty apprehensive about seeing her.
- Vanessa: You must be nervous! Still, you might have fun. You always have some wonderful stories to tell.
- Sally: I'll tell you all about it.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa expresses necessities to Sally.

Instructions: Select the correct word to correctly complete the sentence.

1	2	3	4
could	might	ought to	can should	must	may	had better
ought	could	can	might

- You _____ wear the long-sleeved T-shirt; I think it is the prettiest.
- If you are meeting your ex-boyfriend you _____ look smashing.
- I have no clothes for tonight. I _____ buy a new dress, since I'm going to a fancy dinner.
- We're late. You _____ hurry up.

Let's Practice!

Vanessa and Sally talk about Sally's aunt and her feelings.

Instructions: Match each sentence from column A with column B.

COLUMN A

- Her husband died three years ago;
- Our lives are very different from hers;
- She is concerned about your spinsterhood;
- Your visits are always good for her;
- She has been working a lot;

COLUMN B

- () she must be worried about you.
- () she must feel lonely.
- () she must be tired.
- () she must be shocked.
- () she must be excited.

Extension Activity

Take someone shopping!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Imagine a friend needs some suggestions about where to shop for clothes in your city.
- Choose three stores that your friend could shop at.
- Write a short description (50 words) of each store and the style of clothing they contain.
- Write the reasons you think your friend should shop there (good quality, wide variety etc.).
- Read your descriptions aloud.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I suggest three stores to shop at.

☐
☐

I write a description of each store.

☐
☐

I explain why a friend should shop there.

☐
☐

Target Words

- to go on about (verb): to talk too much about something e.g. Your aunt always goes on about people's behavior.
- to tear into (verb): to verbally attack someone e.g. She tore into me about being single.
- to get worked up (verb): to get irritated e.g. My aunt gets me worked up when she talks about me being single.
- to brighten up (verb): to become happier or cheered up e.g. Your aunt will brighten up when she sees how smashing you look.
- long-sleeved (adjective): having sleeves that reach to the wrist e.g. I don't like sleeveless dresses; I prefer long-sleeved dresses.
- smashing (adjective): a person that looks wonderful e.g. You look smashing in that dress.
- eccentric (adjective): someone who has unconventional behavior
e.g. My aunt is very eccentric; she has very strange ideas about relationships.

Learning Points

Inseparable Phrasal Verbs

Phrasal verbs are two-part verbs consisting of a verb followed by an adverb particle (these look like prepositions, but do not have the same function in phrasal verbs).

In some cases, it is not possible to separate the verb and the particle. These are called inseparable phrasal verbs.

It is important to remember that the meaning of a phrasal verb is often very different from the two parts taken separately.

For example:

Be careful not to slip up like you did last time (slip is not the same as slip + up).

To slip up is an inseparable phrasal verb. You cannot put an object between the verb and the particle. It must remain together. Another example is to tear into.

You can say "tear into someone", but you cannot say "tear me into".

A few verbs can be used with both a particle and a preposition, making them three-part verbs.

For example:

to go on about (to continue talking)

Learning phrasal verbs is a lot like learning new vocabulary. You must memorize which phrasal verbs are inseparable and learn their meanings.

Look at the chart for some more inseparable phrasal verbs and their meanings.

Phrasal Verb	Meaning
slip up	to make a mistake
go on about	to continue talking for a long time
tear into	to criticize harshly
meet up with	to meet
dress up	to dress smartly or formally

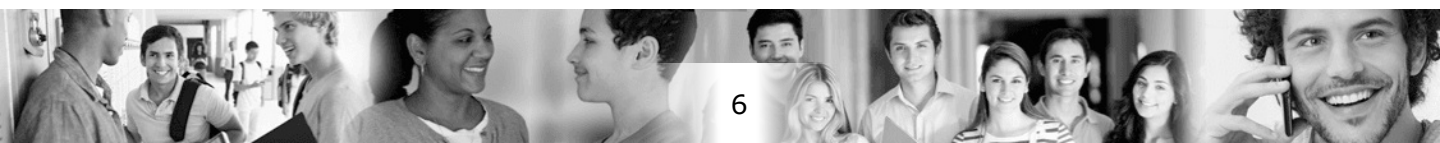

Learning Points

Examples:

- Just be careful not to slip up like you did last time!
- She went on about how badly people behave because of technology.
- Last time she tore into me about being single.
- Your aunt will brighten up when she sees how smashing you look.
- I'm supposed to meet up with my eccentric old aunt for dinner tonight.

Learning Points

Modals for Suggestion, Necessity, and Possibility

Modals are auxiliary verbs that function in different ways. Modals can offer suggestion, express necessity and show possibility.

You use modals to talk about degrees of certainty, possibility and necessity.

You use them to describe what is definite, probable, possible, or impossible from the speaker's point of view.

Modals are used with the base form of the main verb.

Should(modal) + go(main verb)

You can think of modals as "helping verbs". They add meaning to the main verb of a sentence.

Modals talking about suggestions are:
could, can and should.

We should find you something elegant!
I could borrow your long-sleeved silk dress.

Modals talking about necessity are:
must, have to, had better and ought to.

You have to try not to get too worked up if she is critical.
You really must try this cashmere sweater on.

Modals talking about possibility are:
could, may and might.

You might have fun seeing your aunt.

Examples:

- You'd better dress up!
- We should find you something elegant! You really must try this cashmere sweater on.
- You might have fun. You have to try not to get too worked up if she is critical.

